

Pledge to Support Los Angeles Hotel Workers and Boycott the Employers Council Hotels

Nearly 2,500 hotel workers – housekeepers, cooks, servers, dishwashers, bellmen, front desk workers and PBX workers – have been attempting to win a new union contract from 8 luxury Los Angeles hotels that have formed the Hotel Employers Council.

The Employers Council has used intimidation, the fear of an employer lockout, threats to hire replacement workers, and the termination of the workers' union contract to attempt to force the workers to back down from their demands for:

- Humane workloads
- Paid sick days
- Employer-paid health insurance
- Livable wages
- Protections for immigrant workers
- Access to hotel jobs for the African American community
- A contract expiration aligned with other major cities

In order to support Los Angeles hotel workers and to help them protect their rights and their voice on the job, this organization pledges to stop doing business with the following hotels:

- ❖ Century Plaza
- ❖ Wilshire Grand
- ❖ Bonaventure
- ❖ Sheraton Universal
- ❖ Regent Beverly Wilshire
- ❖ Hyatt West Hollywood
- ❖ Hyatt Regency
- ❖ Millennium Biltmore

We will not meet, eat or sleep at any of these hotels until the workers of the Employers Council hotels have achieved a fair and just contract. Until that contract has been signed we will actively encourage our allied organizations and colleagues to join us in this boycott.
